Essex Coach Driven by William Caldwell is Demolished and One Boy is Hurt

CAR TURNS OVER AT CURVE

Chalmers Touring Skids into Ditch Near Morristown—Belonged to Lawrence Keller.

For the second time within a week the disastrous combination of too much loose gravel and too little caution took its toll in automobile accidents, when two mishaps occurred late Thursday night, damaging the two cars involved and injuring one boy.

An Essex coach, driven by William Caldwell and occupied by Ferrell Conover, Burke Dugal and Lowell Osborne, all of this city, hit fresh gravel at a curve in the road after midnight last night, plunged into the ditch and turned over.

The top of the car was broken in and much of the glass in the windows was broken, injuring Conover, who suffered deep gashes about the hand and scratches about the face and arms.

None of the other occupants of the car was hurt although they were shaken up considerably. Conover was brought to this city where his wounds were dressed at Sexton's hospital, several stitches being required to close a cut on his hand.

The boys were driving on the state road north of the city, when the accident occurred and because the driver became confused in the curves after night, was unaware of the danger until he was upon it. The car was damaged to a great extent.

Lawrence Keller, living on the Eleventh street road, north of this city, also was the victim of loose gravel when a Chalmers touring car, which belonged to him and which he was driving, skidded and hit the ditch near Morristown Thursday night.

Nothing much concerning the incidents surrounding the accident could be learned today, but the car which was brought to this city, was slightly damaged, having a front wheel torn off and the fender bent. Keller was uninjured, it was understood.

HOPE FOR FAVORABLE ACTION ON PETITION

Delegation Seeking McCray's Pardon Back From Washington—Opposition is Expected

ANDERSON UNFAVORABLE?

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 14—(U.P.)—Hope of favorable action on the pardon petition for Warren T. McCray, former governor of Indiana, was held today by members of the delegation who presented the petition to Attorney General Sargent in Washington Wednesday.

"We are hopeful that we will be successful in securing the pardon," William P. Evans, McCray's son-in-law, said. He refused to discuss the pardon move further.

James W. Noel, one of McCray's attorneys, expressed belief that the public generally is in favor of the pardon.

The approval of the prosecuting attorney and the trial judge for release of a federal prisoner are always sought after the petition is presented, he said.

Significance was attached to the fact that no letters from Homer Elliott, former district attorney, and Federal Judge Anderson, who were in charge of McCray's trial, were among the 200 recommendations for the pardon sent to Sargent.

Elliott has refused to express his attitude but it is believed both he and Judge Anderson will be opposed to the petition.

There are now nineteen dogs in these kennels, sent to Mr. Wilson from different parts of the United States, for training. Dogs have been sent here from Omaha, Neb., Salt Lake City, Utah, Okmulgee, Okla., National Police Department, Louisville Police Department, Richmond, Ind., Brazil Ind., St. Louis Liberty Hospital, and St. Mary's of the Woods.

HOODWINKS CLERKS BY SLEIGHT OF HAND

Slick Stranger Changes Envelopes After He Makes it Appear He Had Sealed One With Bill

GIVES SILVER FOR PAPER

Works Trick Successfully in Shelbyville and Greenfield—Warning to Merchants

Rushville merchants were warned today to be on the lookout for a slick stranger, who has made his appearance in nearby cities, and escaped with money after working a money changing deal on store clerks.

The man is described as being an elderly gentleman of nice appearance and one who would not be suspected of being a swindler. At Shelbyville last week he obtained $20, and at Greenfield on Wednesday night of this week, he made $10 on his scheme.

He enters a store, usually going to the cashier's desk, and has a letter addressed in a stamped envelope, with a special delivery stamp. He has several pieces of money and asks that the clerk give him paper money so that he can mail the letter to his "wife."

At Shelbyville, he handed out the money and received the $20 bill which he placed in the envelope and sealed, but when the clerk counted the money that was handed him, it was only $19. The stranger then relates a story about having just come from a certain place where he had made a purchase, and the clerk had no doubt made a mistake.

He tells the clerk that he must hurry around before the clerk forgets the transaction, and taking the change with him that he has handed the clerk, he hands him the envelope with the $20 bill in it, stating that he didn't want to open the letter as it was stamped with a special delivery. The clerk was to keep the $20 in the envelope until he returned from the other place. In both cities, the man never returned, and after becoming suspicious the envelopes were opened, only to find it filled with blank paper, as the swindler had exchanged envelopes during the counting of the money.

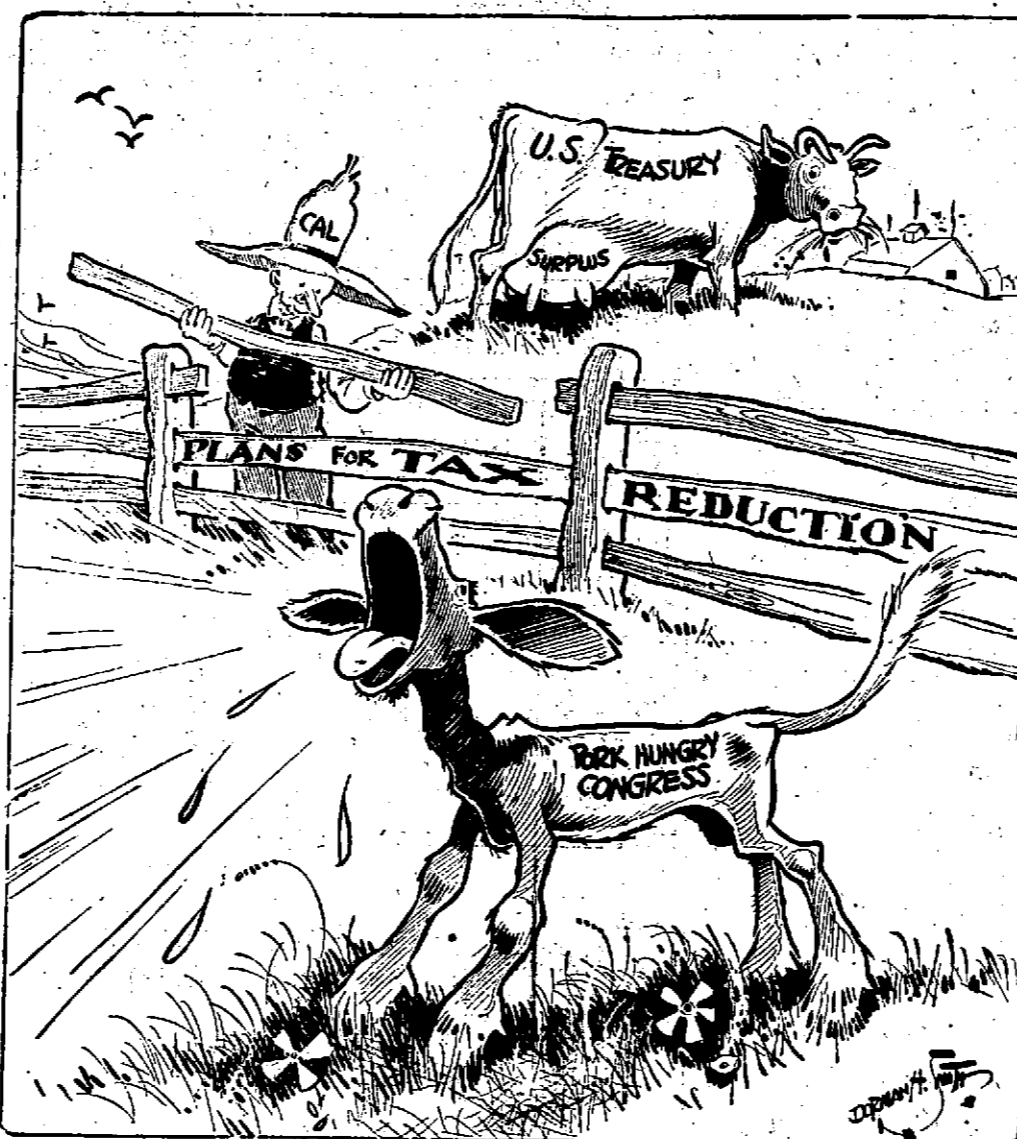

At Greenfield, a girl cashier in a cafe was worked in the same manner Wednesday night during the storm, in which the man made $10 in the deal.

Rushville merchants should be on the lookout for the stranger, and if any such attempt is made, the man should be held, and not given an opportunity to escape, it was pointed out today.

Joseph Jackson Admits He Stole Mail Sack and Invented Story About Robbery

DISCLOSES HIDING PLACE

Kewanee, Ill., Aug. 14—(U.P.)—Joseph Jackson, driver of the government mail truck, which he reported was robbed of a sack of registered mail here late yesterday, was in custody today.

One of the federal agents investigating the affair said Jackson had made a confession to the robbery. According to this official, Jackson simply hid the sack and then told a colorful tale of a young man forcing him to drive several blocks to an automobile and then forcing him to give up the sack.

While officials were reluctant to give further details, it was indicated Jackson had disclosed the hiding place of the sack. The sack contained "several thousand dollars" one of the agents said.

EXPECTED TO CLEAR UP BOOZE RUNNING TRAFFIC

Arrest of Ralph C. Tinscher in Connection with Woman's Death Means Federal Probe

AN AIRING AT TERRE HAUTE

Danville, Ind., Aug. 14—(U.P.)—The arrest of Ralph C. Tinscher, of Terre Haute, Ind., here in connection with the death of Ruth Brooks of Danville, killed when a car failed to negotiate "Dead Man's curve" on the Dixie Bee road near Hooversburg, Ill., will result in federal investigation of the booze running traffic between Terre Haute, Danville and Chicago, Assistant State's Attorney, Louis Bomer of Vermillion county stated Friday.

The appearance of William "Moot" Mushett, of Terre Haute at Danville police headquarters with a demand for the $300 found on Tinscher after his arrest which Mushett claimed he gave Tinscher and the fact that the car figuring in the accident was Mushett's, leads Sheriff C. Timm and the Danville police to believe that they have finally scored on the rum runners between the three cities.

JURISDICTION IN TRIAL IS ASSUMED

Judge Sparks Returns Home Today Noon, Having Taken Charge in Stephenson Case

NO TRIAL TILL OCTOBER

May Be Later as Judge Hines Wishes to Have Edward Prater Tried For Murder First

Judge Will M. Sparks returned home today noon from Noblesville where he assumed jurisdiction in the case of the state against D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, who are indicted for the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer of Indianapolis. He was appointed special judge to try the case Tuesday.

Judge Sparks went to Noblesville to consult with Judge Fred Hines, look up the records in the case and examine the indictment.

He said upon his return here that the trial could not possibly be set before October as the regular term of court would not open until that time and he had no authority as special judge to call a special session of court.

Judge Sparks was notified Thursday by Eph Inman of Indianapolis, chief counsel for Stephenson and his alleged accomplices, that he could not be present today, and William Remy, Marion county prosecutor, announced that there was no use for him going to Noblesville to discuss a trial date with Judge Sparks, if the defense attorneys would not be present.

Judge Sparks remained in Noblesville until 9:30 this morning, and when attorneys failed to appear, he returned home.

Noblesville, Ind., Aug. 14—(U.P.)—The chill winds of November or December may sweep through the corridors of the Hamilton county jail where D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry are held prisoners, before they go on trial for the alleged murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, Judge Hines indicated today.

In turning the case over to Judge Sparks of Rushville, special judge for the case, Judge Hines said he would not call a special term of court for the trial of the three men. This shuts off the possibility of the trial facing a jury before the October term of the Hamilton county court, as Judge Hines alone has the authority to call a special session. ## SEEKS RETURN OF REAL HOME LIFE

Sen. Ferris, in Chautauqua Address, Deplores Conditions of Today in Modern Homes

WHY CHILDREN GO ASTRAY

Parents are Not Keeping the Fireside Together, Leaving Too Much Burden on Schools

An appeal for the return of real home life in America, was made to the chautauqua audience in an address delivered Thursday afternoon by W. N. Ferris, United States Senator from Michigan, and twice governor of that state.

The existing conditions in the American homes today were laid out before the audience, as one of the principal reasons for dishonesty and other crimes that are sweeping the country today, the speaker said.

Senator Ferris, stated that he was born in a log cabin, consisting of a single room, and that he was 72 years of age. He related his home life in which the members of his household were told to do things, and that obedience was law. Today, he deplored the conditions, in which youngsters are handled by their parents, and in most cases they are permitted to do only the things that they want to do.

People today, he said are governed by their appetites and desires. A person who is dishonest and steals money, has developed an appetite for that one thing, and the same is true, he said, of a person who becomes an addict to drugs. They have a craving that is to be pitted, and can be satisfied only by supplying their appetite for it.

He spoke of a man, Newton C. Daugherty, whom he had known as an influential school leader, and who on one occasion delivered the commencement address for a class, in which he urged honesty. Soon afterwards, he said, the man was sentenced for stealing money from the payrolls of the school teachers, and that his appetite and desires had worked on his mind and caused the influence to make him steal.

A doctor became a drug addict, he said, because of family affairs, in which his wife had not spoken to him for 15 years, showing that emotional disturbances figure prominently in creating desires and appetites.

Sen. Ferris stated that William J. Bryan had an appetite. His desire was for food, he said, in which he Continued on Page Two

TODAY FULL DAY AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

Marimbaphone Sextette, Dr. John Thompson and Chief Caupolican All Share in the Honors

BUT ONE MORE DAY REMAINS

Attendance Not Equal of Last Year's Except on One Day, Gate Receipts Reveal

Tonight
7:30 p. m.—Musical prelude, Marimbaphone Sextette.
8:30 p. m.—Grand Concert, Chief Caupolican.

Sunday August 16
2:00 p. m.—Musical prelude, Chicago Mixed Quartette.
3 p. m.—Lecture, Dr. A. E. Wiggam.
7:30 p. m.—Concert, Chicago Mixed Quartette

Today was a full day at the twenty-first annual Rush county chautauqua, with two preludes by the Marimbaphone Sextette, a lecture and a grand concert.

But one day remains—Sunday, the big day. The assembly has progressed far enough to make it certain that last year's attendance will not be equalled. The paid admissions have been greater only on one day, Monday, and all of the remaining days' gate receipts have been below the corresponding days last year. In addition, fewer guarantors' tickets were sold this year.

A banner day was expected today, if rain did not interfere, because of the high class attractions. The Marimbaphone Sextette, one of the two instrumental music organizations on this year's program, has been widely praised and chautauqua officials were hoping for a large crowd to hear the two preludes.

Dr. John Thompson, who has been given wide publicity as the builder of the $3,000,000 Methodist Temple in Chicago, was to lecture this afternoon at three o'clock.

Chief Caupolican, indications have been, will attract one of the largest crowds of the chautauqua, because of his previous appearances here and the strides he has made in the musical world since having sung in Rushville.

Although he had a very melodious voice, his informal talks, when he visited the chautauqua before, were none the less interesting and entertaining.

Sunday will be a day long to be remembered in chautauqua annals, it is believed. Albert Edward Wiggam, who has made most remarkable strides as a writer and public speaker in the past few years, is to lecture in the afternoon. His books are now the best sellers in the non-fiction field.

JAIL IS RELIEVED OF TWO 'STAR' BOARDERS

Drug Addict From Peru and Man Arrested as "Woman Grabber" Are Escorted to County Line

SENT AWAY IN THEIR AUTO

The county jail has been relieved of two boarders, probably in the same manner that caused them to reach this county. The two prisoners were escorted to the county line, and told to hit the high places.

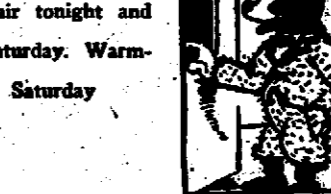

One of them was an alleged drug addict from Peru, who was traveling in an old automobile when arrested more than a week ago. The other was a stranger who was arrested at the Circleville bridge as a "woman grabber."

Both are not believed to be of sound mind, but it was not thought best to place the burden on this county, as they each admitted having been pushed from county to county.

Sheriff Hunt loaded them in the automobile, gave them enough gasoline to take them several miles, and started them out. He took them as far as Glenwood, and told them the road to Connersville.

SEEKS RETURN OF REAL HOME LIFE

overtaxed his stomach, and maintained a daily schedule of six meals, which do doubt was one of the causes of his death, he said.

The speaker then stated that he wanted to talk to the parents about conditions today, and during which he appealed for the return of pure and real training within the home. "The word 'together' is the biggest word for American home life," he said. "Every American home should adopt the word 'together,' and live in the true sense of the word."

Sen. Ferris told about his log cabin home in an interesting manner. The children did as they were spoken to by their parents, he said, because "We had to!" When only ten years old he went into the field with his father, to help him on the place, and learn the "business," he said.

The girls in the household washed the dishes and did other household chores. The family stayed together, went places together, and lived together.

"Today we have Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and other clubs. No, I'm not against these organizations," he said, "because they are necessary today, as the boys and girls are lost from their parents, and have no place to go."

"Then they have put domestic science into our public schools for the girls to learn how to cook. That place is in the home, where mother can oversee the job. All you mothers and grandmothers here, didn't have any school to learn where to cook—you got that portion of your education at home, and that is where it belongs."

"If they are going to have domestic science classes in the schools, the mothers are the ones to attend, so they would learn how to cook, and then they could teach their daughters," he said.

He also commented on the fact that they have manual training in the schools for boys to learn how to make things. These things, he said, are usually insignificant things that are made for the purpose of displaying at the county fair where a blue or red ribbon is attached for the prize piece.

"When I was a boy, my manual training course was on the farm. If a nail had to be driven, it had to be, and there was nothing to do but drive it, and there is no manual training possible unless one is required to go at it and accomplish something," he said.

He stated that in some schools, and he knew it was no doubt true here, that they are teaching thrift. He said in his city it is being done, and that there is scarcely a day but what the pupils are sent home with a request for a time to take back to school for some purpose.

He illustrated his point by taking out a dollar bill. "This dollar bill can be taken from me by one of three ways," he said. "I can either give it to you as a present, or else I can go out and buy something. The third way is by the route similar to the Drake Hotel in Chicago, where it is taken by force."

"You can not learn thrift by taking money to school to accumulate for some purpose. Money has to be earned. You make a dollar, and a certain portion of that is spent for food, clothing and other things, and you put aside another part of that dollar, then that is thrift. Thrift is saving," he said.

Toward the end of his talk he made several comments that were humorous, and his various references kept the audience laughing. He said he was getting old and was going to die some day, and that he was going to heaven. "Why do I know I am going to heaven?" he asked. "I know," he shouted. When the Democrat," he shouted. When the laughing ceased, he added, "And because there are no rewards for them in this life."

TODAY A FULL DAY AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

Many will recall Mr. Wiggam's visit to a previous Rush county chautauqua. Like Caupolicen, he had not yet won national fame either as author or speaker, but it is remembered that he made a very entertaining and instructive address.

It is said that Mr. Wiggam has enough contracts for magazine and other special articles to keep him busy for the next five years and that he is compelled to reject many platform contracts. He is now on a vacation at his former home in North Vernon, Ind., and will come to Rushville from that city, to speak.

The Tooley Opera company pleased a large night crowd with "The Chime of Normandy," the old opera that lost none of its charm or beauty in revival. The company also presented a program of entertaining numbers in an afternoon postlude, a change having been made due to the delay in the company's arrival.

The company carried appropriate scenery for the three-act light opera and the singers were fittingly costumed. The comedy act and the melody of the old songs had a strong appeal for the audience.

While not measuring up in quality of voice with the Little American Opera company, the Tooley company had a much more entertaining performance.

AWARDS $275 JUDGMENT

Justice Stech has rendered judgment in his court in the case of George L. Todd against William Tuttle, in which the plaintiff was given $275 judgment and the replevin action sustained. ### GENERAL REVISION OF SCHEDULES ANNOUNCED

Practically all I. & C. Passenger Cars Will be Operated on Limited Time

WILL MAKE COUNTRY STOPS

Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company has announced a general revision of passenger schedules on both divisions, effective Sunday, August 16th. The increasing use of automobile's year after year has greatly reduced the number of strictly local passengers and after a very careful study of traffic conditions for the past several months, the traction company has reached the conclusion that it will be possible for it to operate practically all of its trains on limited time and yet make the few occasional stops which would be necessary to fully serve country patrons.

The service under the new schedule for Rushville to Indianapolis is as follows: Local, 5:15 a. m., 6:04, 7:09 a. m., express 8:30 a. m., limited 10:33, 11:34 a. m., 1:16, 3:01, 4:45 p. m., local 6:36 p. m., limited 8:30, 10:32 p. m.

Trains leave Indianapolis for Rushville and Connersville as follows: Local, 5:30 a. m., limited, 7:00, 8:35, 10:00 a. m., 12:00 noon, 2:00, 3:25 p. m., express, 5:00 p. m., local 5:30, limited 7:00, 9:00, 11:30 p. m.

Express trains only make town stops and do not stop for country passengers. On all limited trains, train crews have authority to stop for country passengers on request or signal.

ship, state yellow corn champion,
said in a talk before the Rushville Rotary club that if ten points were lost on the Rush county corn crop between now and maturity, it would still be a record breaker.This is the crop the optimists have been talking about for several weeks and the pessimists said after the May frost would be a fizzle.Here is expert testimony. There is no doubt about this year's crop being a record breaker, and best of all, as Mr. Wagoner said, there appears to be no world surplus in any of the major crops, which means that the corn growers will get good prices for their crop, regardless of whether it is fed to hogs or sold outright.Mr. Wagoner made a plan for the greatest precautions being taken to protect the corn growers of Indiana against the European corn flood, which was timely. To lose a wheat crop now and then would not make a very big dent in the Indiana farmer's bank roll, but to lose a corn crop would be a calamity.Corn is Indiana's greatest product of the soil and anything that threatens its existence of course should be regarded and treated as a dangerous enemy.The European pest may not now seem a menace, but it is in reality
a foe that this state should be ever ready to combat at its first show of hostility.Paying The Road BillIn the Saturday Evening Post of July 11, Forrest Crissey has an interesting article on modern highway construction. He asks the question:
"Who pays the billion dollar highway bill?"The problem of who is going to pay for maintaining and rebuilding
our roads, not to mention building new ones, is going to become more important each year. An example of the manner in which money is expended on street construction has been witnessed in Marion, Indiana.Washington street, in that city, was laid in 1902, and consisted of an eight-inch natural cement concrete base with a sheet asphalt wearing surface. After some 22 years of service it was necessary to rebuild it. It was proposed to remove the old asphalt wearing sur-Rejoices Daughter

ial of a similar character.Instead of following the original plan to utilize the old base for a new wearing surface, a plan was finally adopted to tear up the whole street and relay it with eight inches of concrete. The total cost of the job is estimated at $170,000, whereas, if the old plan of utilizing the original base for a new asphaltic
wearing surface had been adopted, it is said that the cost would not have been in excess of $85,000,
which would have meant a net saving of about $85,000, on the present price or 50 percent of the total cost.This illustration shows who is paying part of the billion dollar road bill and it also shows why they are paying it. As the annual road and street bill becomes larger,
it is going to become increasingly necessary to adopt the most business-like methods to secure the maximum results with the taxpayer's dollar. This cannot be done without utilizing in every manner possible old road bases to support a new wearing surface which will carry the traffic.A Marketing BillA year ago President Coolidge appointed an Agricultural Conference
—this body's principal recommendation to congress was for governmental aid in co-operative marketing—this recommendation was not acted upon owing to the fact that congress had, according to law, to adjourn on March 4. There was also another reason and that was the opposition on the part of several of the agricultural and economic bodies who were not satisfied in their own mind as to the particular effectiveness of the proposed measure.In order that congress may have placed before it in plenty of time a measure or measures Mr. Coolidge will in the near future recall his agricultural conference and discuss with its members matters of legislation along the line of co-operative marketing. This matter is one that spokesmen representing farming communities lay the greatest stress
upon.The president feels that the conference should have a tangible plan to submit to congress and undoubtedly will indicate to the members of the agricultural conference his desire that a bill be drafted that will be a real, not a theoretical, aid to agriculture.The Hodge Podge

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — The automobile trade came in for some rather severe criticism at the recent national convention of credit men here. Auto concerns are extending too much credit to the injury of other business and of great numbers of those it's extended to, according to many of the convention delegates.THE Jones family lives on the average American wage earn-er's income (Bureau of Labor Statistics figures) of $1513 a year.
Jones can't save much—certainly not enough to pay cash for an automobile.But he needn't pay cash. He can buy on the installment plan.
It looks easy. Jones is sold.JONES had made due allowance for his installments but not for fuel and oil and extras and repairs. AA put together, these things pinch him.He needs a new suit. His wife needs a new dress. The baby needs new shoes. Well, they can't have them—not until the car's paid for.BY this time the Jones' are distinctly hard up. They have to cut down on food—perhaps cut some of it out entirely—cheaper butter, less milk, no meat
some of the time. Their living standards have been lowered—except that they have a car.THE result, the critical credit men say, is that business isn't as good as it ought to be
—except the auto business.
It isn't actually bad in other lines. Building activity and other nice things more or less offset the Jones' financial stringency.
Nevertheless, according to credit men, always excepting the automobile credit men, isn't as good as it would be if an over-extension of credit hadn't induced Jones to buy a car he couldn't afford.FIFTEEN YEARS

Business For Professionals

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 13.—Tex Rickard must have had some thrills when he was the "Mayor" of Nome, running the biggest and the squarest house of chance during the romantic gold rush days of Alaska.

He must have had some excitement when he was riding cattle on the pampas of Argentina behind one of the biggest herds that had ever been assembled.

He must have had some satisfied pride when he put over the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, the greatest fistie attraction that has ever been staged after every one told him that he was insane.

There must have been countless other experiences in the romantic career of Rickard that stirred him to his depths but right here in New York, a tame place for a rugged, rough and ready man, he says he is having his greatest thrill.

You can call Rickard's office at most any business hour of the day and his secretary will tell you with a smile of a chuckle—"He's down stairs watching the job."

Through sunshine and rain, early in the morning when the whistle blows for the laborers and after they have gone home, Rickard can be found gazing at an immense frame work of steel that is going to be the new Madison Square late this fall.

"I can't get away from this place," Rickard says. "Those steel girders are like chains around my feet. Watching this place go up is the greatest thrill I ever had. It's made me twenty years younger. I feel like I am just starting life."

When the new garden opens it will be the happiest day of my life."

Rickard can take pride justly in the monument that is being built to a man who would always take a big chance. He was laughed at when he said he was going to build a palace for sport that would cover two city blocks and would be the greatest structure of its kind in the world.

The old Madison Square Garden that he had been forced to vacate was such a financial white elephant that the owners had to tear it down and erect a huge office building to realize on the investment in the real estate.

Rickard was told that Wall street never would give him enough money to experiment with such a foolish dream but he went on dreaming and one day he announced that Wall Street would back him to the extent of $4,500,000.

No one believed him until a gang of wreckers started tearing down the old car barns at 50th Street and 8th Ave. There were still skeptics until a fleet of steam shovels dug a hole in the ground that resembled the Panama Canal excavations and the structural iron works started putting up the immense columns for that dream castle.

"Well, Rickard's put over another big long shot," his critics said and they started rooting for him.

The steel work has been completed and the brick work is well under way. The contractors have promised that the building can be opened not later than the first week of December.

"It will not be opened with a boxing show," was the first surprising announcement Rickard made. "I do not want to give any reason for the belief that the new Garden is a boxing arena. Boxing is to be one of our minor enterprises."

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

Milwaukee, Wis.—Pinkey Mitchell, Milwaukee welterweight, will fight Willie Harmon, here tonight for a chance at Mike Walker, present title holder. If the Milwaukee mauler shows well against Harmon, he will get his chance at the crown here September 12.

Aurora, Ill.—Two matches between reputed hard hitters are to be staged here tonight when "Chick" Sugars, Fall River, Mass., negro bantamweight, meets Herbie Schaeffer, Chicago and Ray Miller meets Frankie Schaeffer, both of Chicago, in the 130 pound class.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Cards, hit his 31st homer of the season with two on but the Cubs won 8 to 5.

Kent Greenfield, star rookie pitcher, stopped the Pirates and the Giants won the last game of the series, 4 to 1. Frankie Frisch hit three single and a double.

After being blanked 2 to 0 by Uble in the first game the Senators came back in the second game and beat the Indians 5 to 4, with a ninth inning assault.

Poulet's wild throw gave the Browns the run that beat the Athletics, 5 to 4.

SPORT CHATTER

Evanston, Ill.—Northwestern University's hopes for a Big Ten football championship next fall were raised today with announcement that Ralph Baker, star quarter back, will be eligible for competition by virtue of a special election passed at the end of the summer school term.

Forest Hills, N. Y. Aug. 14—America's leading women tennis stars will face England's best today at the West Side tennis club in the first three of seven matches for the Wightman international cup.

Montreal, Aug. 14—With a lead of 20 to 0, after the first day's play, the Australian Davis cup team will meet the Canadians today in a doubles match that may clinch the victory.

In the singles matches yesterday Anderson beat Crocker, 6-1, 6-3 and 6-3, and Patterson beat Wright, at 5-7, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1 and 6-3.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 14—After splitting even in the two open matches, the Spanish and Japanese Davis cup teams will resume play today in one doubles match.

Harada defeated Flaquer in a singles match yesterday at 6-2, 6-4 and 6-0 and Manuel Alonzo won his match for Spain against Zensu Shimizu at 7-5, 6-0, 3-6 and 6-3.

Clinton—A total of 593 patients, with only twenty one deaths is the record of the Vermillion county hospital at Clinton at the end of its first year of existence. The hospital has been nearly full all year.

Comedy at Castle

"Jimmie's Millions," Dick Talmadge's most recent production, now showing at the Castle theatre, has kept big houses howling with glee and clutching their chairs with excitement during every performance of its engagement. The production, directed by James P. Hogan and released by F. B. O., is one of the most amusing combination of thrills and laughter which it is possible to imagine. The story is excellent, providing many unusual situations for the display of the star's widely-heralded ability as a stunt man—and Richard Talmadge is certainly the boy who can do his stuff! Betty Francisco and Lee Moran head an excellent cast.

Milton Sills at Princess

"The Making of O'Malley," now showing at the Princess theatre, proved the re-making of Milton Sills. With his elevation to stardom by First National recently, Sills was given a new test of his versatility. Although still the "he-man," Sills role in his first starring vehicle, which Earl Hudson produced, is a departure from the society roles and woman-hating characterizations of his last successes. It is the agreed belief of Sills, Hudson and other First National officials that the public generally prefers the star in roles whose virility is tempered with close-to-the-heart drama. His plays in the future, therefore, will give him less the aspect of the stern, forbidding man and more of the warmth and geniality of the man who loves humanity. "The Making of O'Malley" is the first of this type. "The Comeback," from M. D. C. Crawford's novel, which follow his current production is another and this will be followed by a drama of the steel mills, "Mer of Steel." "The Making of O'Malley" is an adaptation of a short story of the same name by Gerald Beaumont. Sills has the role of a New York policeman.
